

RED CARPET | BAY AREA

Sea Worthy at San Francisco's Fall Antiques Show

Ken Fulk, Diane Keaton and Ray Azoulay at The San Francisco Fall Antiques Show Preview Party on October 24, 2012

Yurie Pascarella

The Collective chairs Jenna Hunt, Shirley Robinson and Kendall Wilkinson, with San Francisco Fall Antiques Show consultant Lisa Podos

The San Francisco Fall Antiques Show co-chairs Michele Goss and Adrianna Pope Sullivan, with honorary chairs, Jonny Moseley and Malia Moseley

Carol Bonnie, Captain Antiquities, and The Collective chair, Kathryn Lasater

Robert Atkinson, Lonna Wais

Event Photos by Drew Altizer Photography

Inspired by America's Cup, The San Francisco Fall Antiques Show featured nautical art and antiques, along with its usual bevy of high-end wares on display throughout the weekend of October 24, 2012. Preview night guests were among the first to view the great wave entryway designed by architect Andrew Skurman, and the presentation of 120 ships by Ron Pippin for Obsolete of Venice, California.

Karen Caldwell, Oliver Caldwell

Paul Weaver, Tatiana Sorokko

Connoisseurs Circle chair Lucy Jewett with Mark Buell

Some 70 dealers from across the United States and Europe presented fine and decorative arts from a myriad of styles and periods at the four-day event. Proceeds from the popular preview party were donated to Enterprise for High School Students, an organization that employs and empowers Bay Area high school students.

All Night Long He Sailed Upon It, Ron Pippin, 2007-2011, from Obsolete, Venice, CA

Yachting Trophy made by Gorham in 1900, from Spencer Marks, Southampton, MA

Italian school Venetian scene with boats in a harbor, 18th century, from Daniel Stein Antiques, San Francisco, CA

Posted: December 2012

<http://www.redcarpetsf.com/sfstyle/sea-worthy-at-san-franciscos-fall-antiques-show.html>